Martinaire

EDITED

by the Class of 1955

Pulaski, Tennessee

Warden Memorial Library
Martin Methodist College
433 W. Madison
Pulaski, TN 38478-2799

Should you ask me, whence these pages?
Whence these peoples and traditions,
With the year thus recorded
With the smile and laugh of students,
With the guidance of the teachers,
With their words of wisdom,
As of lightness in the darkness?

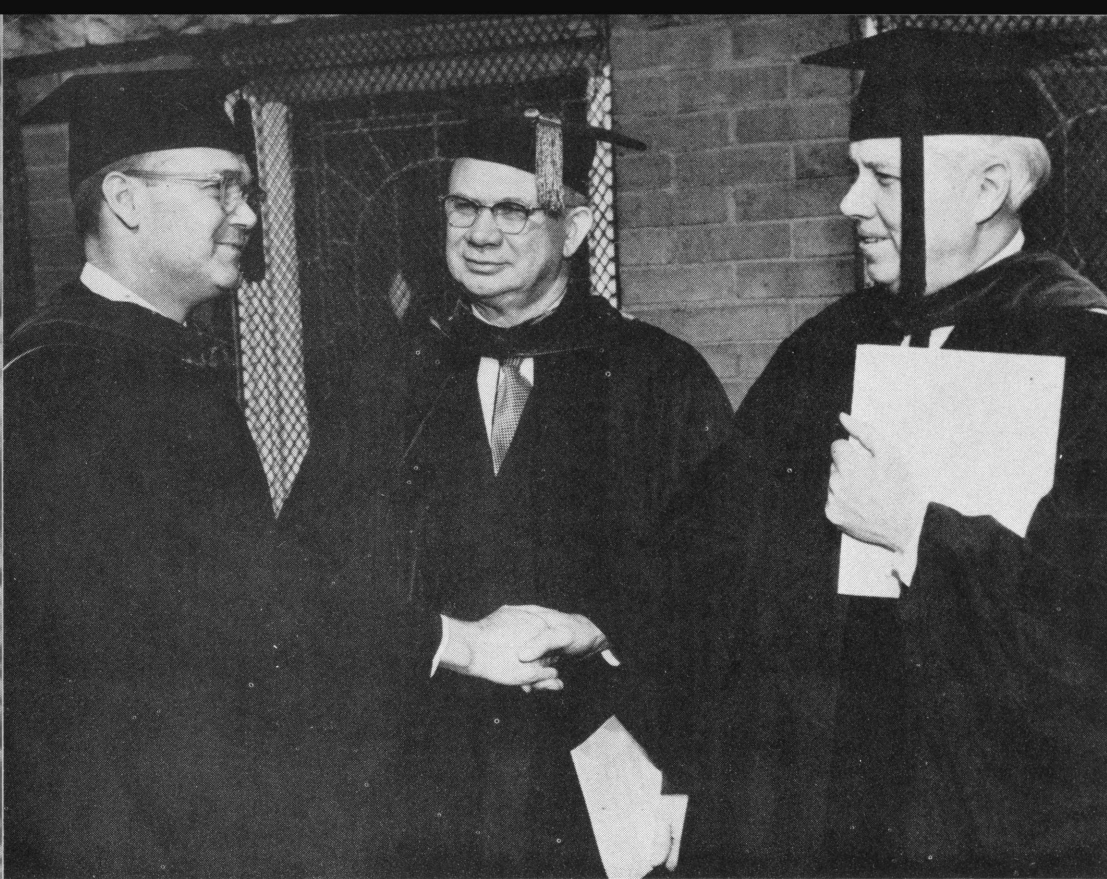

I should answer, I should tell you,
"From the buildings and the campus,
From the shade trees on the lawns,
From the books of other ages,
From the joys of youth at play,
From the mind, the heart, the spirit,
Where the secret of the Martinaire
Lives among the young and fair.

I repeat the trail they blazed
As I heard them this year past,
I should answer, I should tell you,
This is a part of each one's heart,
Never to be removed—
Liveth it now and always in this Martinaire of '55.

Hail to growth! This issue of the MARTINAIRE salutes the ideal of growth. As Martin College grows in buildings and enrollment, may she grow in fellowship and friendship. As Martin College grows in scholarship and leadership, may she grow in the love of the great Spirit who consecrated her. As Martin College grows in the eyes of the world, may she grow in the hearts of those students who partake of her joys. For as love is sunshine, hate is shadow, life is checkered shade and sunshine. May Martin College light, as shimmering beams, the checkered world. May her growth in the minds of youth reflect her lightening influence as they venture into life. Hail to the growth of Martin College!

President Fowler being congratulated by Dr. John O. Gross and Bishop Roy H. Short on his Inauguration Day, December 3, 1954.

ADMINISTRATION

Open Letter to Students in Annual, Faculty, Friends:

Because of the fine spirit which has been built in former years, Martin has had this year the largest enrollment of full-time students in her co-ed history.

Variety in nationality and sources of students has contributed much toward the life of the campus. There are few dull moments.

In the classroom, on the athletic floor and field, on the stage, in programs for schools, clubs, radio and TV, and churches, students have acquitted themselves well. We shall be forever grateful to you for your part in building a greater and better Martin.

To the graduates of 1955, we are wishing and expecting for you great happiness and success in all your endeavors. When September comes, we hope to greet every Freshman again and have next year with you and the new students many joyful experiences.

Sincerely,

J. Fort Fowler

Look at familiar places and faces as Martin girls gather in a typical room in Tennessee Hall.

No place like the Student Union for a good record and a break between classes.

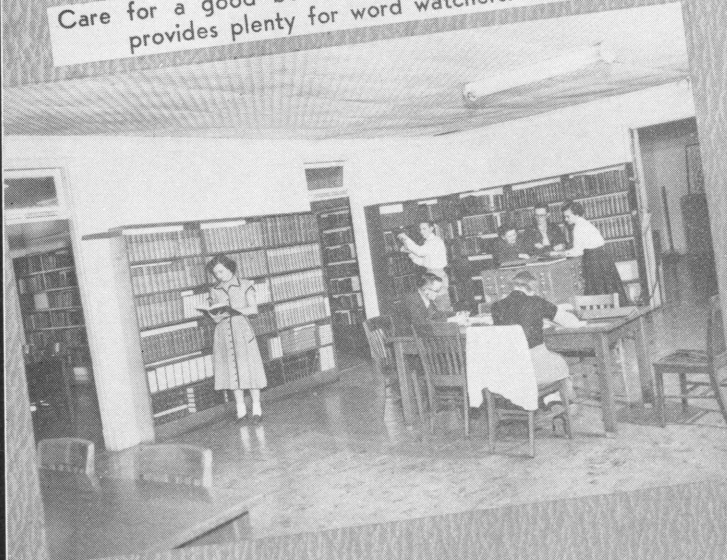

What song would you like to hear in the rec-room after dinner?

Just a Sunday afternoon bull session in an average room in the Men's Dorm.

Care for a good book? The college library provides plenty for word watchers!

Food? Yep, three times a day in the Martin College Cafeteria.

MARTIN COLLEGE MUSIC DEPARTMENT AND CHORUS

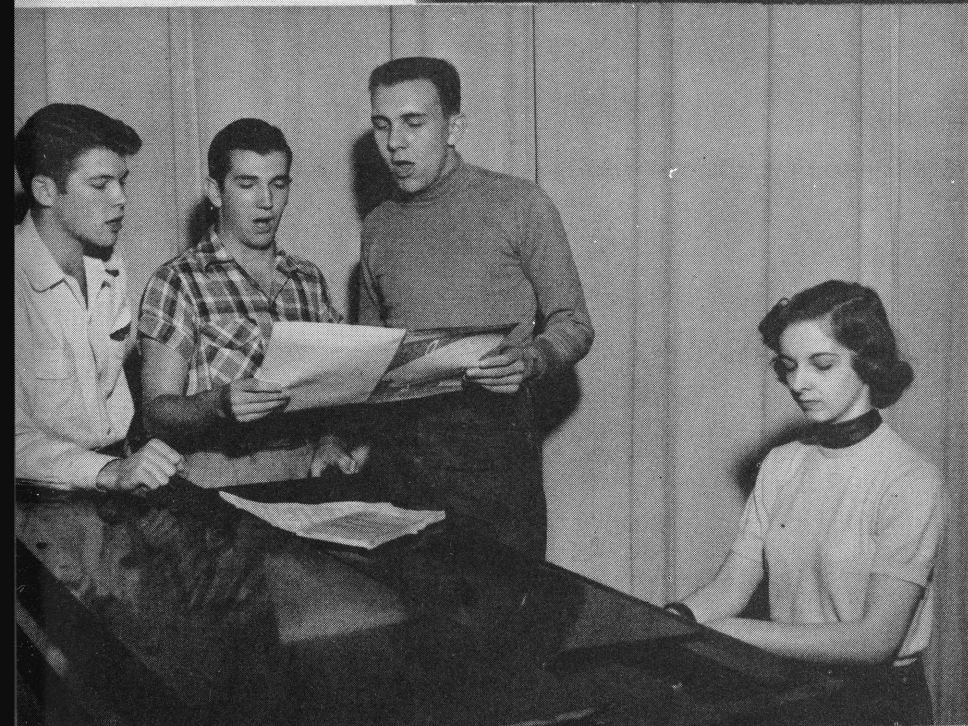

Onelia Nunez, Helen Melissinou, Anne Coffman, Sara Jo Browne, Garie Taylor, Bill Lassiter, Alfred Halliburton, Bill Lee, Smitty Gatlin, Wayne Cheatham, Bill Kimes, Nellie Cofinis, Julia Anne McGlothlin, Gayle Leming, Nell Evans, Mr. Harris, director, and Mrs. Harris, accompanist.

Sara Todd, Ann Bledsoe, Zane Shands, Gail Murphree, Patsy Hollis, Rebecca Moore, Annette Davis, Mary McConnell, Julia Melissinos, Edith Somerville.

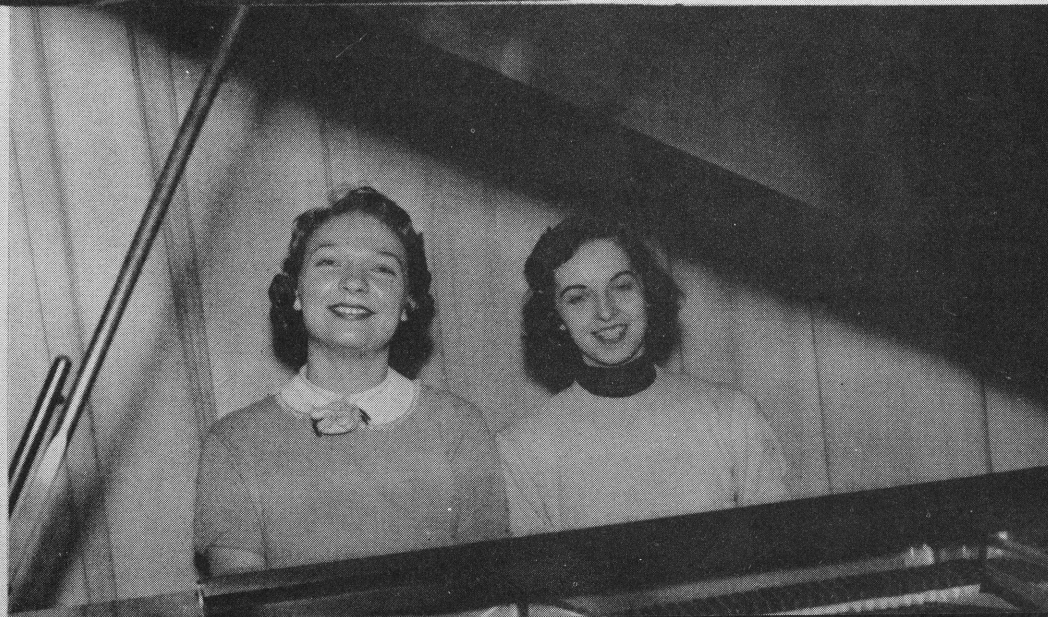

An inspiration in any music program is Nellie Cofinis accompanied by Mrs. Harris.

The Music department just wouldn't be complete without the boys' trio—Wayne Cheatham, Bill Lassiter, and Smitty Gatlin, accompanied by, of course, Mary McConnell.

There's Joy Barnett and Mary McConnell at the piano—a familiar sight with pleasant sounds—!

Have you ever seen
165 Santa Clauses??
50 wide-eyed Pulaski children did at the annual Christmas Party sponsored by the S. C. A.
The young girls became mothers to dozens of baby dolls and every boy became a wild-west hero, guns a-blazing . . .

Things going rough? Test coming up? Maybe your sitting on top of the world. Whatever may be the case, there is always time for thankful words or seeking help on a dimly lit road. For the girls it's a visit to Faith Chapel, for the boys it's a mediative moment in their Chapel . . .

Some would say they're kids at heart, while others would claim a second childhood. We'd like to say for all, that it's a great life to be young in heart especially at the annual S. C. A. Kiddie Party . . .

Hello, does this scene remind you of the annual Christmas dance? ... Oh, yes, must not forget the big turkey banquet before the holidays!

Meeting people is lots of fun if you are at Martin college ... dancing under silver stars while dream dust descends puts every coed and escort in a delightful mood.

Dinner or tea, the company is always nice in Tennessee Hall.

Speaking of "outstanding" and "top-notch" personalities, we come to the "Who's Who" page. Here they are, picked for their inherent traits. Martin has reason to be proud of these sophomores for they have captured honors, attained goals, and carried forth the advancement of the school.

At the top of the activity list for many Martin students is the athletic program . . . come on Martin get the ball . . . take a glance at the pretty queen and her court . . . remember the tense moments and breathless anxiety as the last seconds of the game pass away . . . Yea Martin, echoes five pepsters . . . a tough fight but a good game!

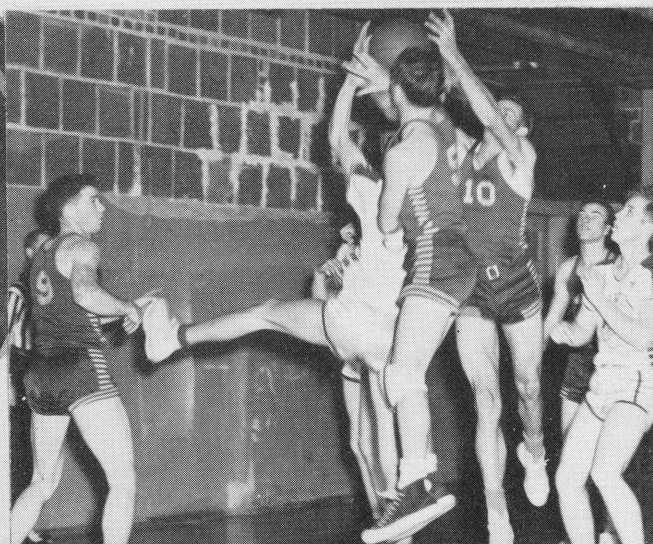

Captain Dan gets to crown the lovely queen at homecoming . . .

Fight, Indians, Fight chant the cheering squad as Martin blazes a trail through the enemy court . . .

Martin get that ball and score, score, score . . .

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SOPHOMORE CLASS OF 1955

We, the Sophomore Class of Martin Junior College, in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-five, possessing the same foolish minds as when we entered this noble institution of learning, slowly crawl out upon that so-called "road of life" completely worn out but happy and relieved. To those poor souls left behind, we have declared and published this our Last Will and Testament, in hopes that it will help you to continue without us.

ARTICLE I

To the Freshmen Class—we just leave—hoping there will never be another like you.

To the Faculty, we leave wondering if you will ever be able to find another group of such co-operative and willing-to-work students.

To Mrs. Woodard, we leave the knowledge that there are as many coke bottle rollers, light breakers, and noise makers in the future classes as in the past.

To Coach Smith, we leave the feeling of having participated in a great "intramural program."

To Mrs. Rayburn, we leave a giant-size bottle of aspirin for her many headaches over this Annual.

To Mr. Fowler, Dean Whitley, Mrs. Huie, and Mr. Payne, we leave feeling we have broken each of you in very well to the routine of Dear Old Martin.

ARTICLE II

We, the individual students of this great class of '55, will our traits and possessions to the following:

I, Joy Barnett, leave my ability to play the piano to Julia Ann McGlothlin.

I, Harold Bass, leave my ability to say nothing in class and get by with it to any freshman unfortunate enough to want it.

I, Willa Ruth Bass, leave my short hair to Betty Stuart.

I, Sara Jo Browne, leave my ability to tell jokes to Stupidity Number Two.

I, Pepe Bove, leave my Cuban accent to Yu Sang.

I, Jane Cathey, leave my quietness to Betty Sledge.

I, Wayne Cheatham, leave my renditions of Nat King Cole to Garie Taylor.

I, Harold Clark, leave my "Black Sheets" to Ben Alford.

I, Anne Coffman, leave my Yankee accent to Jane South-erland.

I, Nellie Cofinis, leave my peculiar laughter to the one who can be really tickled.

I, Jane Cook, leave all my dainty ways to Edith Somerville.

I, Jerry Crowe, leave to lead a married man's blissful life.

I, Ken Crowell, leave my good looks to the victor in the battle for them.

I, Annette Davis, leave wishing Pierre were too.

I, Jimmy Driver, leave my "Moody and Lov-ett."

I, Fred Elliott, leave Martin to go home—or could it be Columbia.

I, Betty Ellis, being physically and mentally exhausted, do leave.

I, Wynelle Ellis, leave my naturally curly hair to Joyce Riley.

I, Noel Evans, leave my ability to get through Martin two weeks without going steady to Douglas Hobbs.

I, Ray Foster, leave my ability to get along with Coach Smith to Robert Martin.

I, Bryce Francis, leave my ability to "really jitterbug" to Bobby Curtis.

I, Smitty Gatlin, leave my ability to swoon the ladies in a trance with my songs to Dennis Tramel.

I, James Haywood Green, leave to lead a band.

I, Alf Halliburton, leave my bass part in the chorus to anyone who can get "low down."

I, Jimmy Hastings, leave my acting ability to George Frey.

I, David Hazlewood, leave my "Pogo" stick to anyone who is fool enough to try it.

I, Joann Henderson, leave thinking of Charlie.

I, James Holt, leave my jolly manner to Jimmy Miller.

I, Andy Jack Irvin, leave my preaching ability to Jimmy Douglas.

We, Inita Johnson and Dan Locke, leave assuring each of you that come what may we are tying that fatal knot in July.

I, Bill Kimes, leave my ability to get along with foreign students to Raul.

I, Charles La Croix, leave my quiet ways to Charles Rucker.

I, Will Lackey, leave my book "How to Care for Dogs" to Jimmy Thomas.

I, W. D. Lannom, leave wishing I were taking a little ray of "Sunshine" with me.

I, Bill Lee, leave one Bass note to Bill Lassiter.

I, Gayle Leming, leave hoping Birds don't fly away.

I, Freddy Long, leave to be a housewife, at last.

I, Tom Lundborg, leave my water gun to Mrs. Woodard to ward off all on-coming "little devils."

I, Smitty McAulay, leave my romantic ways to Bobby Lewis.

I, Dot McCord, leave to be with Jim.

I, McLin Moore, leave my red hair to Gail Murphree.

I, Mary McConnell, leave the organ to whoever is crazy enough to take it.

We, Joulia and Helen Melissinou, leave you with an invitation to come over and see us sometime . . . "Big Boy."

I, Rebecca Moore, leave . . . with my ring.

I, Harold Montgomery, leave all my campusology notes to Eldon Smith.

I, Fred Morrison, left Wanda, Mary, and Marie, but I'll never leave Sherrie.

I, Gerald Noffsinger, leave each freshman boy with this word of encouragement—don't give up this year, you may win her over next year.

I, Giraldo Casals Nunez, leave my ability to make passionate love to Don Adgent.

I, Joe Oliver, leave to become the next mayor of Pisgah.

I, Judy Paulk, leave each of you with an invitation to visit Nell Evans' home next year instead of mine.

I, Billy Pigg, leave my note-taking ability to Larry Hewgley.

I, Myra Purvis, leave my ability to play "Down Yonder" to Betty McClanahan.

I, Martha Shelton, not having much, take it all with me.

I, Doris Sieben, leave my ability to wait until the last minute to start my term papers and still get them in on time to Mary Ann Watson.

I, Peggy Smith, leave my ability to get in and out of trouble, without being caught, to Juanita Spann.

I, Frank Smith, leave my ability to outrun the cops (especially on Halloween) to E. T. Martin.

I, Charles Sowell, leave my job of filling up the coke machine in the Girls' Dorm to Paul Rhodes.

I, Joe Spivey, leave my slim silhouette to Se Jin.

I, Howard Springer, leave my ability to work, work, and to work; no one else could be that foolish.

I, Jim Allen Stevenson, leave my natural blond hair to Carol Maxwell.

I, Wray Tomlin, leave my quiet and bashful ways to Joe Allen.

I, Royce Wales, leave my desire to make all "A's" to Billy Cole.

I, Earl Waters, leave my love of "Hill-Billy Music" to Gerald Phillips, so he may play it for his listeners more often.

I, Jean Webb, leave my sorrows, pleasures, and ups and downs during my stay at Martin to Jean Price.

I, Jerry Williams, leave my ability to become injured as soon as practice starts in any sport to John Baggett.

I, Mary Helen Wirshing, leave my Frenchie ways to Roberta Andrews.

I, Helen Wolfe, leave my nickname of "Ice Box" to Patsy Richardson.

I, Martin A. Woodall, leave my M.A. to anyone else with the same initials.

MARTIN COLLEGE

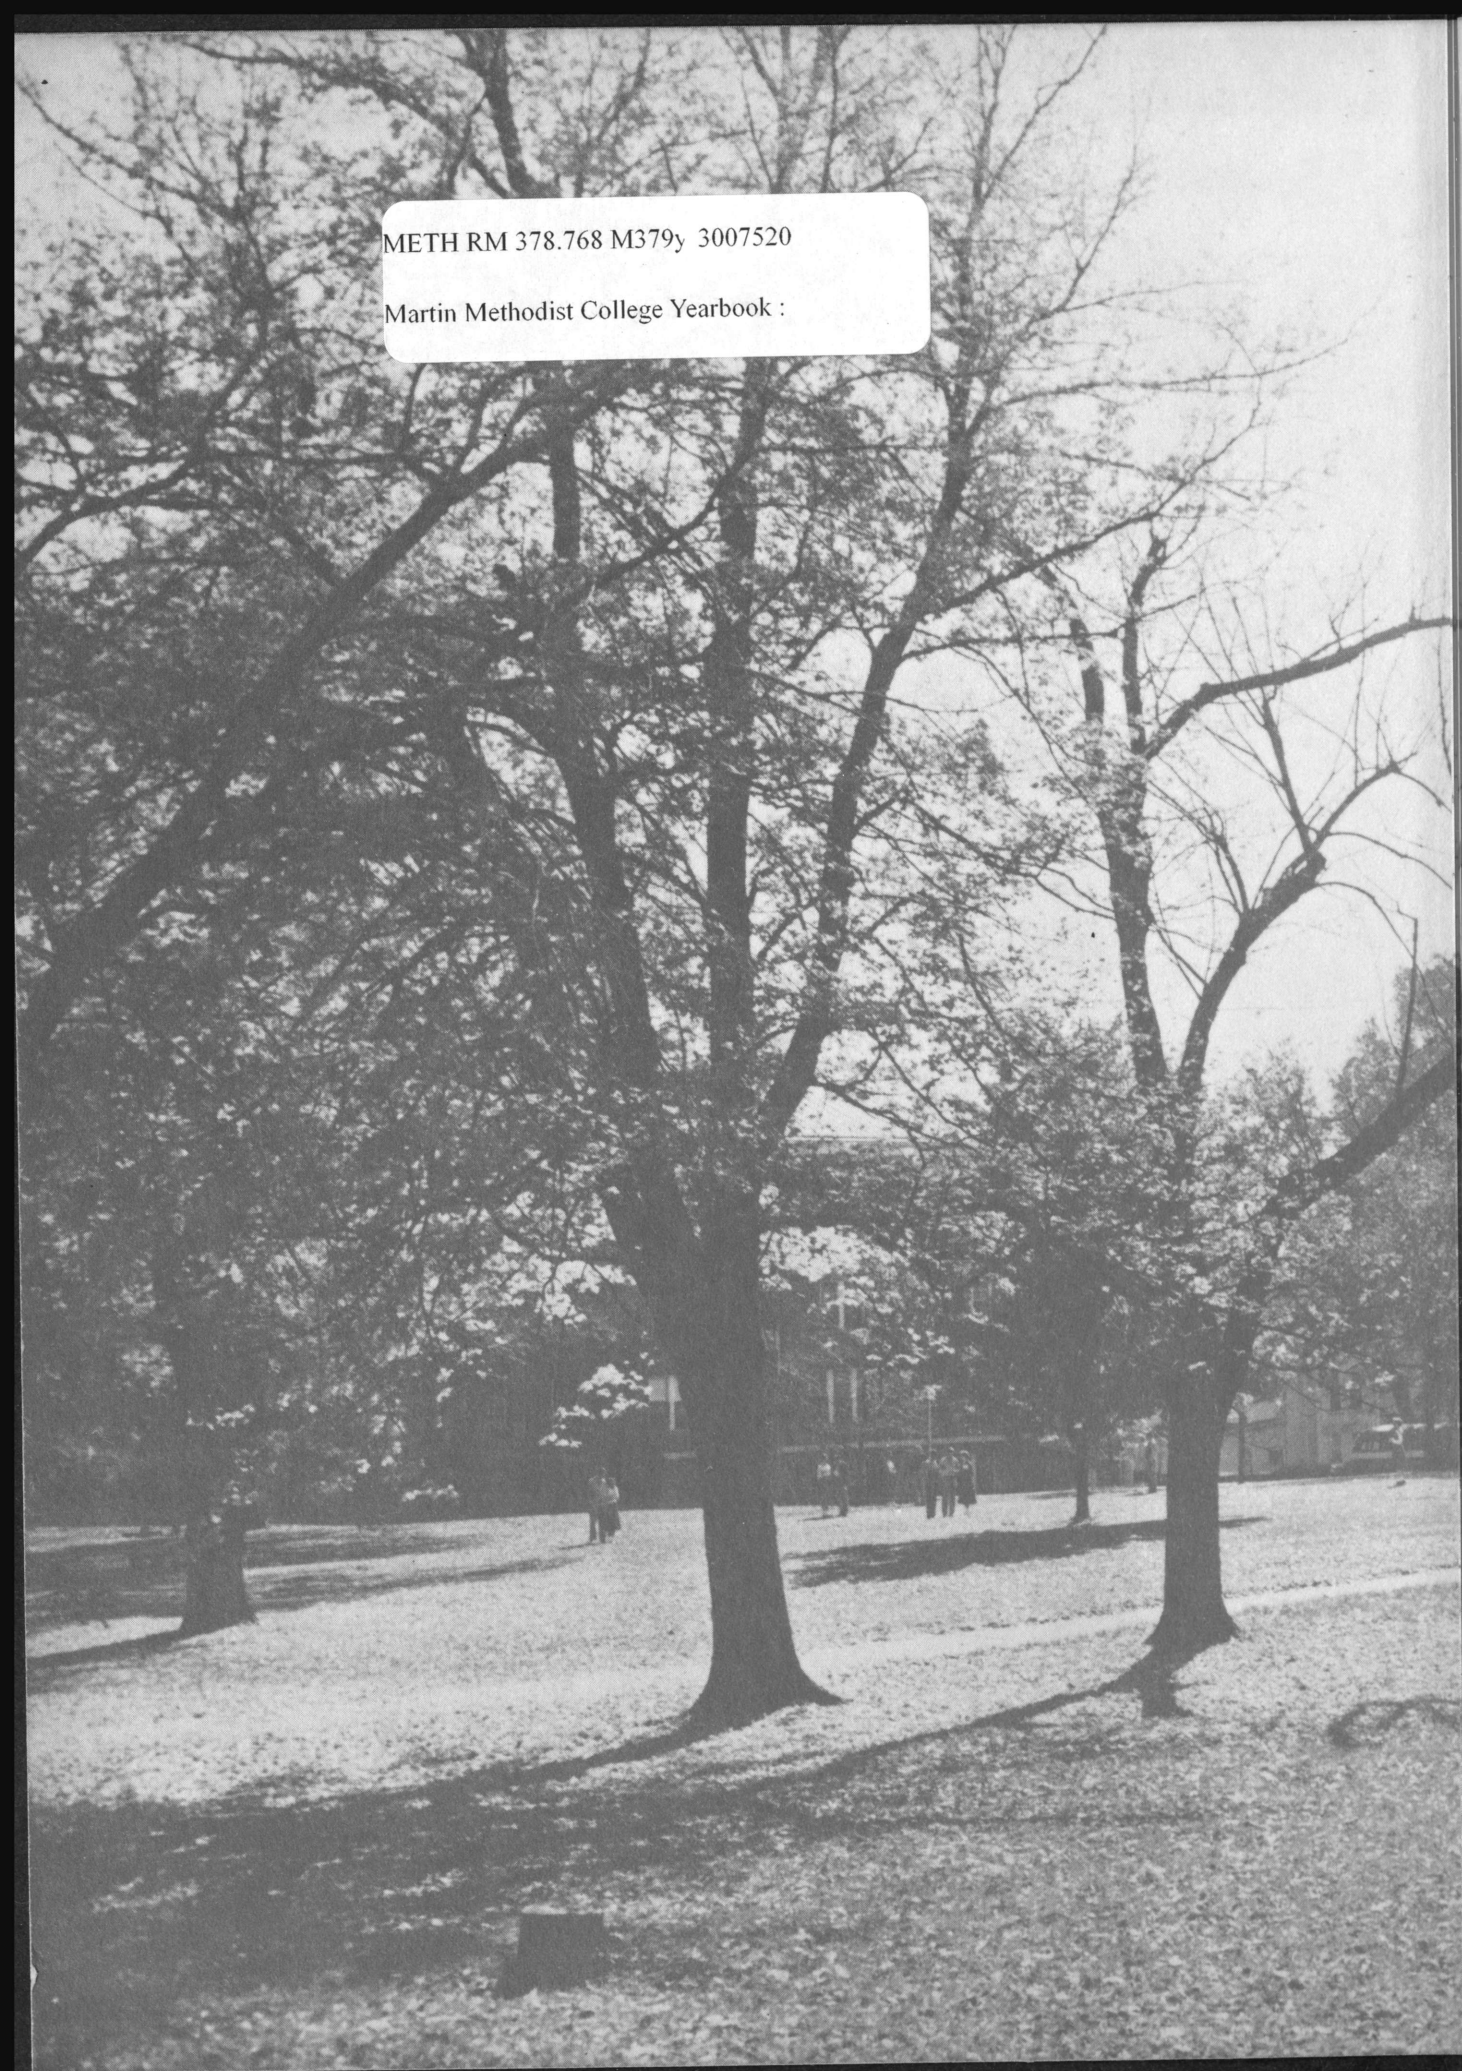

Back to take a second glance at the Martinaire, this time informally.

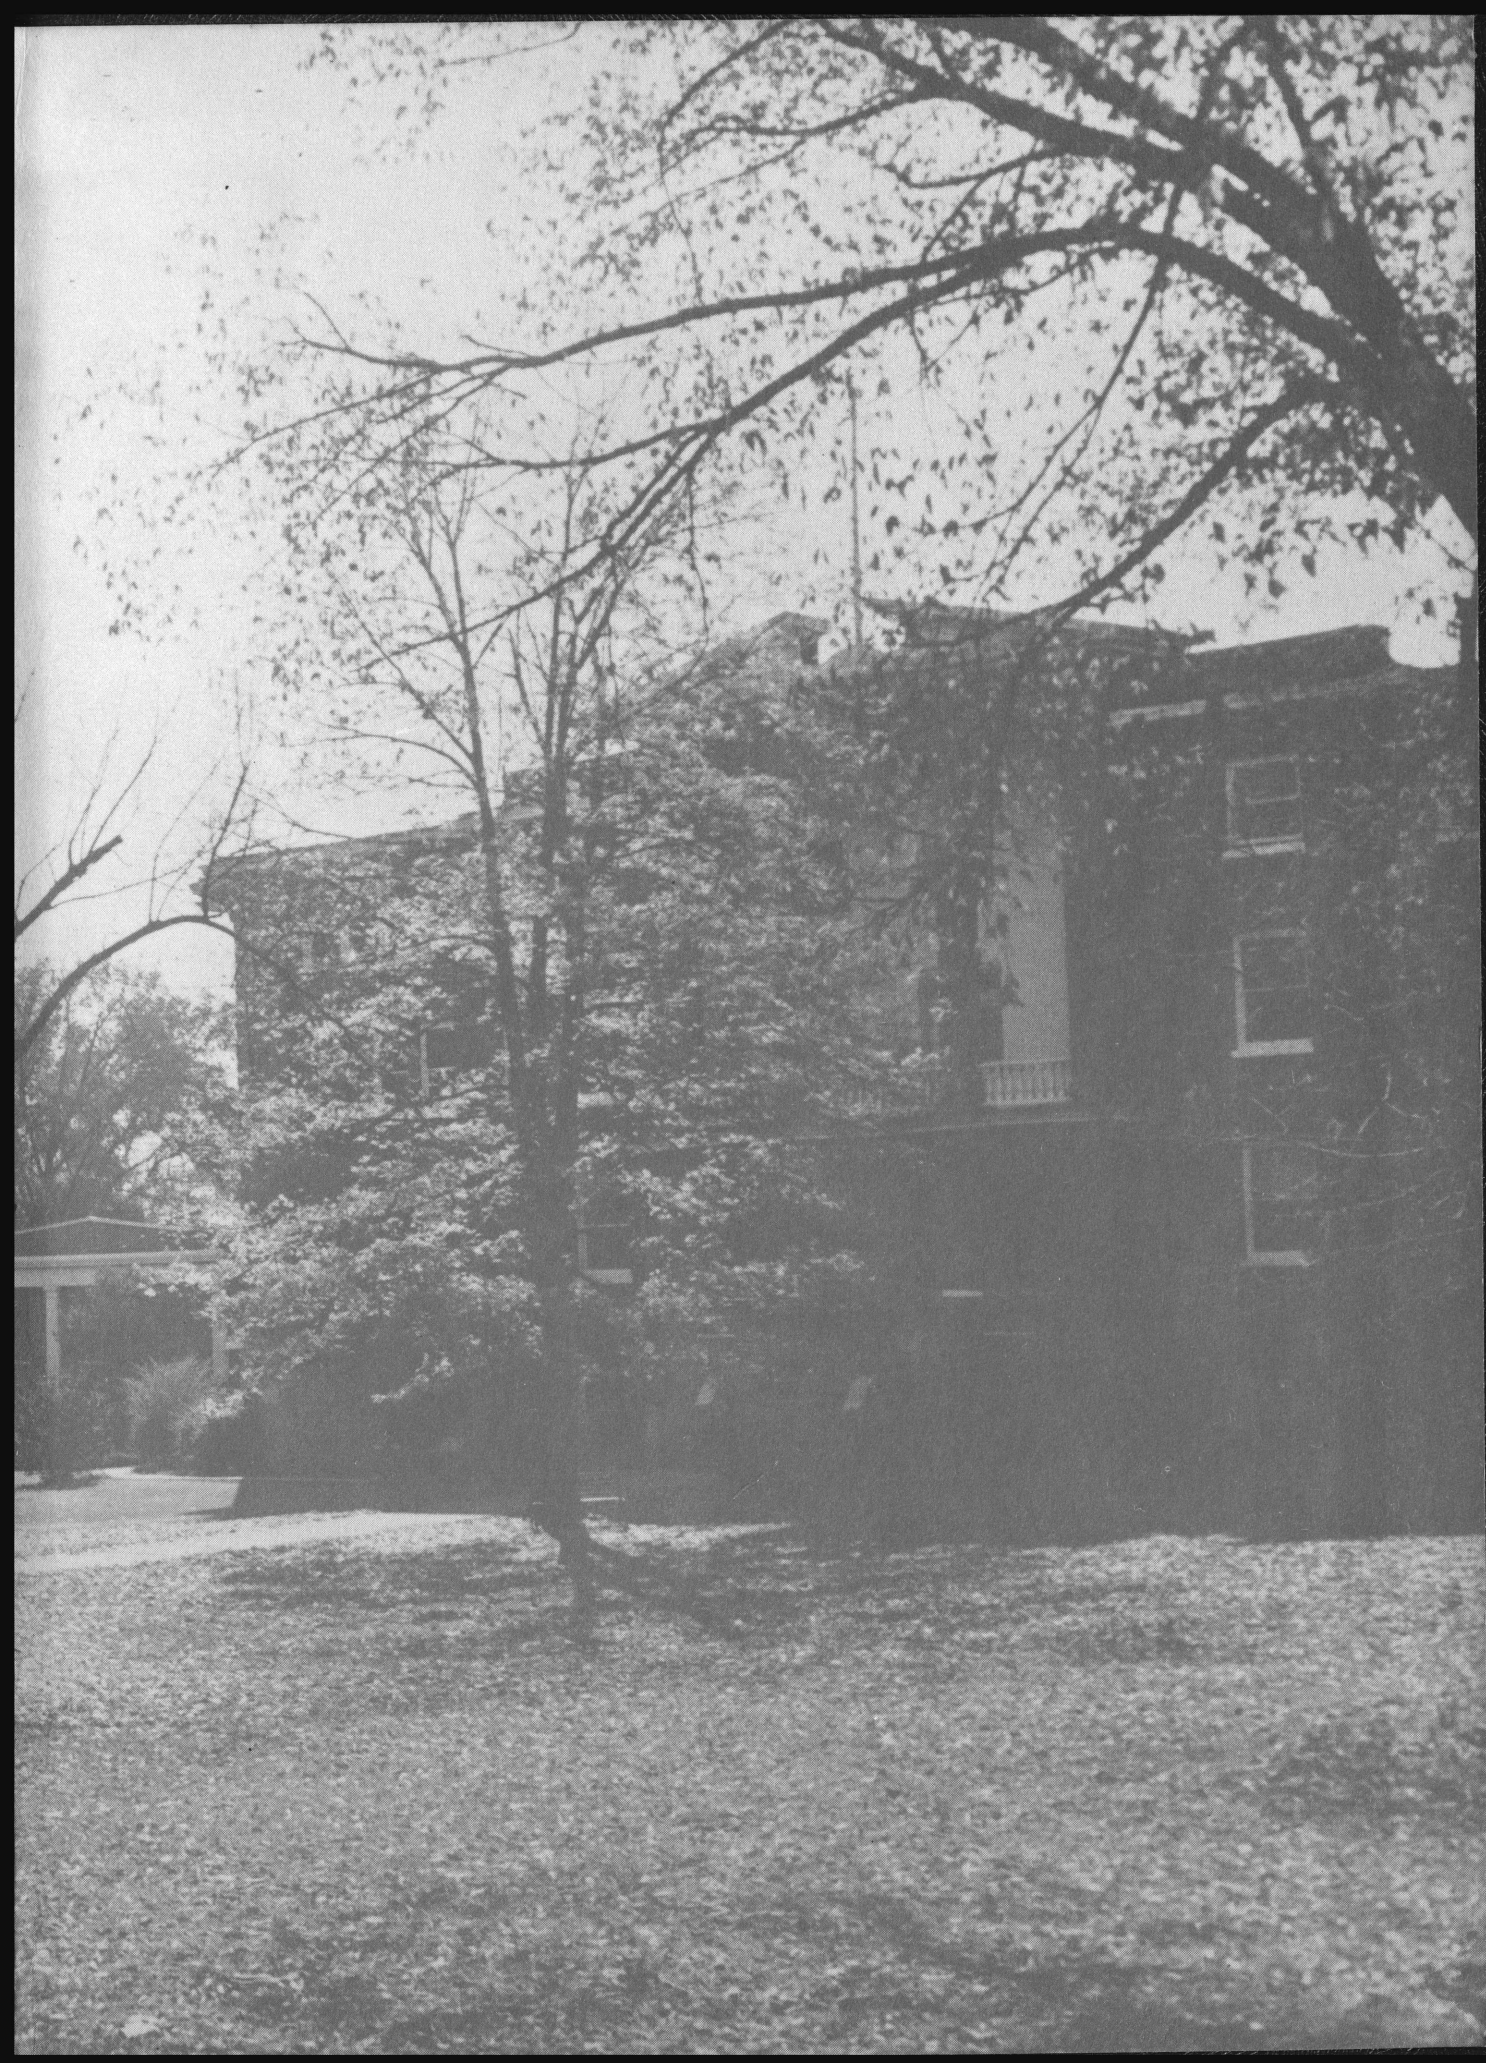

Look closely, for this is the last time you will see many of these faces at Martin.

1. Mighty Moss.
2. We are crazy, we are crazy. . . .
3. There's a Ford in my future.
4. Martin beauties of the future.
5. Outdoor recess.
6. Pyramid of trouble.
7. Just buddies.
8. Let me go, Lover?
9. Spring fever.
10. The Ford appears.
11. I can tell by your face you belong to the monkey race.
12. Lovely to look at.
13. We're at our Sunday best.
